To Whom It May Concern:

Peter Burke joined us under contract three years ago as 'New Business Generator'. Peter's role is to assist our sales department by identifying, targeting and securing executive level meetings within our targeted prospect base. Due to his uncanny abilities to identify and arrange meetings with key executives at our 'Target Customers', we now have Toyota, Honda and many other major companies as clients.

Peter has consistently demonstrated his consummate skills and abilities on a Global basis.

I can confidently recommend him to anyone who needs to expand their major client base nationally or internationally.

He works under contract from his own office and is highly effective.

Yours very truly,

Dennis Cocco
